KEMH UPDATE

The latest test results received by KEMH are all negative for COVID-19.

The batch of 19 swabs were processed in the UK as part of the hospital's regular monitoring for the virus.

372 samples have so far been tested in the UK and there have been 13 COVID-19 positive results in total.

Two of those 13 remain in isolation at Mount Pleasant Complex, while the remainder of the individuals have either completed isolation or treatment.

It is very important that if you had a swab taken from KEMH recently that you wait to hear directly from the hospital as to your test result.

Staff are phoning anyone affected within a day of receiving back results, and there's no need to contact the hospital.

If you are waiting for the result of a swab, you must continue to follow advice issued to you by the hospital until KEMH get in touch with you.

Remember: If you feel unwell with flu-like symptoms and are worried you might have COVID-19 phone the Hospital on 28000. Staff will provide advice. DO NOT come to KEMH.

POWER PRICE DROP

A decrease in electricity prices will come into effect on from this Friday 1 May 2020.

The move is part of the government's comprehensive suite of measures to assist businesses, private sector employees and households during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The overall price of electricity per unit for all consumers will be decreased from 23p to 18p for a period of three months.

For consumers supplied via pre-payment meters, electricity will be supplied at 18p per unit and cards will be sold at:

£5.00 card £4.74;

£10.00 card £9.48;

£20.00 card £18.96;

£50.00 card £47.40.

For all other consumers, electricity will be supplied at 18p per unit.

To comply with the social distancing guidelines, where possible, all meter readings will be self-read.

Meter reading can be emailed to admin@PWD.gov.fk or phoned in on 27193. Readings will be received from 8am on Thursday 30 April until 4pm Friday 8 May.

Those readings not received by this date will be estimated by calculating the quarterly average and an invoice issued.

There are a number of meters that will need to be read and PWD meter reading contractor will contact individuals prior to reading to agree a suitable and safe time and method to read the meter.

Please only email or phone in readings; DO NOT bring your readings to PWD offices.

ADVICE ON WIDER RESTRICTIONS

A full statement on the status of the current restrictions will be made on Friday by the Chief Executive, Barry Rowland.

OUTBOUND AIRBRIDGE

With regards to the next northbound flight accepting civilian passengers departing Mount Pleasant on Sunday 3 May 2020, please be aware that the deadline for any additional passengers, amendments, or cancellations is Friday 1 May at 8am (Falklands' time).

Any changes made to bookings after this date cannot be guaranteed.

In the current circumstances this deadline is important as FIGO, FIC travel, and the MoD are working around the clock to make sure all essential travellers are able to board the Airbridge, any last-minute amendment/cancellations creates considerable logistical challenges that require extra hours of work to adjust travel plans.

In addition, in the current climate when travel is restricted worldwide, please make sure you do extensive research regarding immigration policies and your onward travel plans when reaching the UK, such as trains, hire cars, and connecting flights.

The check-in and departure times will be confirmed for this northbound flight in due course.

The FIGO Travel Co-ordinator is Teryn Joshua who can be contacted with travel@falklands.gov.fk

HELP US FIGHT COVID-19

What to do if you feel unwell and are worried you might have COVID-19.

If you have flu-like symptoms, phone the Hospital on 28000. Staff will provide advice. DO NOT come to KEMH directly.

The symptoms of COVID-19 are:

- a cough
- a high temperature
- sore throat
- shortness of breath
- aches and pains in muscles and joints

But these symptoms do not necessarily mean you have the illness. The symptoms are similar to other illnesses that are much more common, such as cold and flu.

Please remember the importance of good public health hygiene measures:

- Always cough and sneeze into a tissue and dispose of the tissue safely in a bin and wash your hands afterwards. If you do not have a tissue, sneeze and cough into the crook of your elbow.
- If you are unwell with any infectious illness, please act responsibly and stay away from people and crowds and isolate yourself as much as possible.
- Avoid close contact with people who appear unwell and avoid sharing personal items.
- Wash your hands regularly with soap and water for 20 seconds or use a disinfectant, especially after coughing and sneezing, and always before handling and consuming food and after using the toilet.

Protecting Your Workforce During COVID-19

The government has today published guidance for the building sector on operating under COVID-19 conditions.

These are exceptional circumstances and the industry must comply with the latest Falkland Island Government advice on COVID-19 at all times.

The Site Operating Procedures are based on Public Health England (PHE) guidance and information provided by the Falkland Islands Government Chief Medical Officer;

Anyone undertaking construction activities during the COVID-19 pandemic needs to ensure they are protecting their workforce and minimizing the risk of spread of infection. This includes considering how personnel travel to and from site.

This guidance is intended to introduce consistent measures on construction sites of all types and sizes, in line with the Government's recommendations on social distancing and ensure employers and individuals make every effort to comply.

How deaths and burials will be handled

Our Hospital and Coroner Service are putting in place measures to care for the deceased in the event of deaths during the present COVID-19 situation.

It is important after a COVID-19 death to remove the deceased to an area away from KEMH, and so a separate place for the deceased has been arranged away from the hospital. This is also now being used as the process for deaths not related to COVID-19.

The Coroner Sarah Whitby says the reason for this is to protect the hospital and its staff from infection as much as possible.

"This process is the responsibility of myself and my team, and we will keep family advised so that they can make arrangement for burial. There will be an opportunity for family and friends to see their relative or friend after death, but this must be managed differently."

Arrangements can be made for funeral services and burial, and a guidance document is available below.

Speaking on behalf of the Island's faith groups, the Reverend Ian Faulds said that the churches are working together to provide care and pastoral support both for the critically ill and for their families.

"Regardless of faith, religion or belief, this is what we are committed to do and all ministers are happy to work with the authorities and next of kin to ensure that any burials are conducted in a dignified way."

"Infection measures may well affect the way in which funerals can be held, but this will become clearer as time goes on and chaplaincy support will be available to those experiencing trauma in the community."

The Chief Medical Officer Dr Rebecca Edwards said that to lose anyone to COVID-19 will be a blow felt by all our community, but of course by their family and friends the most.

"I want people to know that our health teams will be doing our utmost to care for our most ill and save lives. We do very much need all of you to play your part as well by following government guidance around matters such as self-isolation, social distancing, and looking out for the needs of our most vulnerable."

If you have questions, the Coroner Sarah Whitby is available at the Court telephone number of 27271 to talk matters through. Ian Faulds can be reached on 51051.
