Businesses

To help reinforce social distancing all non-essential shops and community spaces were closed from 11:59pm on Thursday 26March.

Most non-essential shops, retail, service, lifestyle and hospitality businesses may now re-open, with full social distancing measures in place.

See: List of closures and exemptions
See: Non-essential retail guidance

Essential services and suppliers remain open and will be following strict social distancing guidelines.

For all businesses that have not been mandated to close, employers must take every possible step to facilitate their employees working from home, including providing suitable IT and equipment to enable remote working.

Businesses where working from home is not an optionmaybe operational butmustmake sure strict social distancing and health guidelines are in place to protect workers.

Please see the full list of closures and exemptions for more information.

Freight and supplies

Continuing as normal

Gatherings & social events

Outdoor gatherings of up to 10 people are now permitted; however social distancing must be observed at all times between those from different households.

Up to two people will also be able to visit you inside your home with no strict time restriction. Both visitors should be from the same household. Guidance from The European Centre for Disease Control recommends that indoor contact is limited to 15 minutes and social distancing should be observed. While this measure is highly recommended, it is an individual's choice whether to observe this guidance.

See: Gatherings and freedom of movement

Update 11 June 2020: Any legal requirement for social distancing in our community will be removed from Monday 15 June. Social distancing and PPE requirements will however be maintained in health and care environments. A further announcement on gatherings will be made on 15 June.

Hospitals

Visiting restricted.

Stay home and stay safe requirement

It's important that everyone plays their part in reducing the spread of coronavirus in the Isle of Man.

This means protecting yourself, others and our health service by making sensible choices about where you go and what you do. It's important that where you can, you stay home as much as possible.

When we reduce our day-to-day contact with other people, we will reduce the spread of the infection. That's why it's really important to continue to follow good social distancing habits.
