Public Health

Today 27th October 2020 is World Occupational Therapy Day, with the theme of 'Re-imagine Doing', a relevant and important message in this year when populations in all parts of the world are required to re-evaluate, re-think, and re-engineer how they engage in their daily activities". (WFOT 2020).

Engaging in occupation is vital to us all, we need to ensure that everybody regardless of their disability can safely engage in their daily occupations without any barrier.

On this day we commemorate Occupational Therapy staff for the vital role they play in making the population healthy.
