On March 8, 2020, Governor Kate Brown announced the state's public health response to COVID-19. The plan includes a state and local recovery to slow the spread of COVID-19. The Oregon Health Authority is the lead agency for the state's response and supports local health departments (LHDs) and the Oregon Emergency Center (OEC).

To slow the spread of COVID-19, Governor Kate Brown has issued an Executive Order that asks Oregonians to stay home except for essential needs. Health officials urge social distancing, good hand hygiene and covering coughs.
